MPS Contract confirmed for UK High Profile Residential Development

Hydrotech Europe plc has entered into an agreement with Cardoe Martin Limited, for Hydrotech's MPS system to be designed to combat water ingress issues in the basement of one of their client's properties in Central London, a high profile residential development.

Cardoe Martin Limited is the parent Company of an independent multi-disciplined practice providing Building Surveying and Property Consultancy services to a broad range of corporate, institutional, and private sector clients in the United Kingdom.

In addition, Hydrotech Europe plc has also entered into negotiations for the proposed installations work with Volkerlaser, one of the UK's leading companies specializing in concrete repair systems.

The project was initially discussed in 2008 and following a thorough evaluation by an independent consultant has now been approved to design stage; the works are scheduled to begin in late August 2009. The first stage works have a contract value of £40,000 ($78,556AUD).
